DISCOVER YOUR INTUITION

Use Your Intuition to Get What You Want

Your intuition communicates peace or joy within you, when you know what you want or what's best for you. It communicates discomfort or tension within you, when you pursue things you don't really want or things not best for you.

- 1) Clarify and state your desire.
- 2) Pray to receive it.
- 3) Ask God to forgive your debts as you forgive debtors.
- 4) Expect to receive your desire, without a doubt.
- 5) Be ready to receive it, and detach from how it will occur.
- 6) Act as if you already have your desire, before you receive physical proof.

Listen to your intuition for guidance every step of the way. You'll receive a tap, nudge, hunch, or impulse to say or do something. Follow through and get what you truly want.

Intuition Exercise

A courier rings your front doorbell.
A blue and white package is delivered to you.
The originator of the package is "Your Future Self."
You open and read it. What prophetic event will occur?

Intuition Quote: "You must train your intuition—you must trust the small voice inside you."

—Ingrid Bergman

A Fallen Leaf represents change, priority, departure, growth, and death. Notice when a falling leaf or falling leaves appear in your intuitive messages.

Intuition Tip

When you perform a work activity or household chore, notice when your intuition guides you, once or many times, to:

- Be careful.
- Ask for help.
- Finish it that day.
- Take breaks.
- Finish it another day.

An Intuitive Experience

Hotel Magnate, Conrad Hilton

Conrad Hilton's intuition generated a bid that helped him buy an old, prestigious Chicago hotel. Days prior to the deadline, he offered a bid of $165,000. However, that night he went to bed feeling restless. The next morning he changed his bid to $180,000 because the other bid didn't feel right to him. He outbid his nearest competitor by only $200.
